18TH YEAR. NO. 156.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1901.

TWO CENTS.

BIDS MUST BE UNCONDITIONAL

Large Number of Bidders Present When Propositions Were Opened Today.

ONE EAST LIVERPOOL MAN

Bid on the Lot—The Remainder Were Out-of-Town Firms — Seasongood & Mayer, of Cincinnati, Were the Highest Bidders.

Bids were opened today for the sale of $50,000 20-year 5 per cent refunding bonds, and an unusually large number of bidders were present.

The meeting of council had been called for 1 o'clock, but it was almost 1:30 before President Nice called the meeting to order, with Members Barlow, Cripps, Bullock, McLane, Solicitor Gaston and Clerk Hanley present.

Before the task of opening the bids was commenced Solicitor Gaston announced that it had been decided to accept a proposition which contained no conditions, should there be any, in preference to the other sort. Several reasons were given for the declination on the part of the council to consider only unconditional bids, and the statement brought forth a considerable amount of discussion from the out-of-town bidders. They held that council should have included this in the advertisement or at least informed the bidders before their propositions had been placed in the hands of the clerk.

As near as could be ascertained the stand taken by council is a reasonable and just one. Not long ago a batch of bonds was sold to Seasongood & Mayer, Cincinnati, at a reasonable premium. It is stated the bonds were peddled about and finally thrown back into the hands of the city. They were finally sold at a less rate than had been offered by the Cincinnati people. They propose in the future to guard against a similar annoyance. The agents for the bidding firms insist, however, that inasmuch as the city has their pledge, backed by a certified check for $2,500 in each case, they could hold the bidders to their bargain.

The attendance was not sufficiently large this afternoon to let the contract, but a meeting has been called for 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at which time the lucky bidder will be decided upon.

Following is the list of bidders and the premiums offered:

Seasongood & Mayer, Cincinnati, $54,877.89; Rudolph Klybolt, Cincinnati, $53,961; W. J. Hayes & Sons, Cleveland, $54,050; Provident Savings bank, Cincinnati, $54,100; Lamprecht Bros., Cleveland, $53,840; Dennison, Prior & Co., Cleveland, $53,765; W. R. Todd & Co., Cincinnati, $53,390; P. S. Briggs & Co., Cincinnati, $53,250; Feder, Holtzman & Co., Cincinnati, $53,375; C. R. Williams & Co., Pittsburgh, $52,800; New First National bank, Columbus, $51,750; State Savings bank, Toledo, $53,400; R. W. Patterson, East Liverpool, $52,275.

CORNS-MOUNTFORD

A Pretty Home Wedding—Lives And Fortunes of a Well Known Young Couple United.

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Susan Mountford, Second street, at high noon today occurred the wedding of two of East Liverpool's popular young people, Miss Clara Mountford and Mr. Albert W. Corns.

The bride is the second daughter of the late John H. Mountford, well known in pottery circles and a prominent member of the Elks. The groom holds the position of bookkeeper at the McNicol pottery.

Promptly at 12 o'clock the bride entered the parlor upon the arm of her brother, Mr. Will Mountford, and was met by Mr. Corns, who stood with Rev. Edwin Weary in the bay window, which was beautifully decorated with palms. Here the solemn ceremony was performed. The bride, as usual, looked very winsome, and wore a gown of steel gray crepe de chene over taffeta of the same hue.

The ceremony performed and congratulations offered, the entire party retired to the dining room, where the wedding breakfast was served. The bride's table was very pretty in pink roses and smilax, and the color scheme of pink, green and white was elsewhere in evidence.

Only the family and intimate acquaintances were in attendance at the wedding, which was a very pretty and well arranged affair.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Rowe, Zanesville; Mr. and Mrs. Bevington, Fallston, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Underwood, Duquesne, Pa.; Rev. and Mrs. Curfman, Moscow, W. Va.

The bride and groom left this afternoon on the 4:20 train for the east. They will be at home at 153 Ridgeway avenue after January 8.

INSANE MAN WANTED

POLICE LOOKING FOR ONE WILLIAM E. MOORE.

Believed That He Is the Man Who Seized And Choked Little Georgie South.

The East Liverpool police have been advised by the probate court at Lisbon to be on the lookout for William E. Moore. The charge against him is insanity, information having been filed in the court by persons of this city. It is claimed that Moore is the man who seized Georgie South, a 13-year-old girl, by the throat while she was on her way home from the opera house.

The little girl was strangled and dragged several yards when assistance caused her rescue. Moore is a fellow of powerful build and considered dangerous to be at large. Street cars have been frequently stopped by him, when he would simply examine the trucks of the cars and signal to pass on.

Judge Boone issued a warrant for his arrest, but, in the meantime, Moore is said to have gone to Pittsburgh. His mother lives in Wellsville.

BARBERS STILL UNABLE TO AGREE

Journeymen Object to Proposed Plan For Work the Night Before Holidays.

DEMAND NEW REGULATION

Are Not Satisfied With the Rate of Compensation Offered By the Bosses—The Matter One the New Rules Do Not Cover.

From present indications it will be some time before the journeymen barbers' union have their affairs in such shape that the organization can take its place among the older unions.

Ever since the organization was formed several months ago, one obstacle after another has been encountered. They have been met and disposed of in a business-like manner, however, and in the majority of cases to the satisfaction of the men.

As the holiday season approaches the question of remaining open the evening before Christmas and New Year has demanded consideration. Unfortunately when the scale now in effect was formulated and put in effect no provision was made for holidays. Last week the bosses submitted a proposition asking that the men work until 12 o'clock the night before the two holidays. For this extra time they proposed to pay 25 cents an hour or a half of a day.

The matter was taken before the union at a regular meeting last night and the proposition rejected on the ground that there was nothing in the scale as it stands that would permit them to make such an agreement; also that the rate was too low, since on all previous occasions they were paid a whole day for the four extra hours. A committee of three was appointed to confer with the bosses with a view to forming a new agreement including the holiday clause.

The following officers were elected to serve for the coming year:

President—Frank Gear.
Vice President—C. E. Douglas.
Recording Secretary—Robert Lacy.
Financial Secretary—Frank Cunningham.
Treasurer—John Poland.
Guard—William Norris.
Delegates to Trades Council—A. E. Bertele, Henry Shenkel and W. Allison.

GIFT TO THEIR EMPLOYER

Clerks Make a Handsome Present to Thomas B. Murphy.

The clerks of T. B. Murphy & Son, of Fifth street, last evening presented their senior employer with a handsome walnut business desk as a Christmas gift. While Mr. Murphy was at supper the clerks had the desk sent to the store, and upon Mr. Murphy's return, Eugene Jones, on behalf of the clerks, presented it to Mr. Murphy, saying the gift showed the respect and esteem the clerks had for their employer.

The clerks employed by Mr. Murphy are: Charles Craft, Fred Larkins, Charles and Raymond Byers, Eugene Jones, William Davis, Willis Sellers and Miss Bessie Burnser.

HIS HANDS FROZEN

Driver in the Party That Went to Clarkson Suffered From the Cold.

A tent of the Knights of the Macabees was organized at Clarkson Saturday night by members of the order from this city. The East Liverpool people made the trip in vehicles and on their return Sunday suffered much from cold. James Weston, who drove a team, had his hands badly frozen.

Successful Coon Hunt.

Arthur Abram, of Achretown, and two boys had a successful hunt near Frankfort Springs, Beaver county, Pa., yesterday. On arrival in East Liverpool he had 12 coons, besides other game. Abram presented Mayor Davidson with a fine coon.

Door Broken In.

The outside door to the hall entrance of Walter Bower's Diamond alley saloon was broken open some time Sunday night. Inside doors leading from the small hall and stairway were securely fastened and nothing was found to have been stolen.

BLAZE AT NIGHT AT THE NATIONAL

Quick Action of Firemen Prevented a Serious Blaze at 2 a. m.

DAMAGE PROBABLY $500

Heat From a Kiln Started a Blaze in the Roof And a Fire Whistle Called Out the Department in a Hurry From the East End Station.

Fire, causing a loss of probably $500, occurred at the National pottery at an early hour this morning, and had it not been for the quick action of the firemen at the East End station, considerable more damage would have been done.

Sunday afternoon kiln No. 2, containing biscuit ware, was fired off, and at 2 o'clock this morning Night Watchman George Hutchinson took a number of bricks from the kiln door to cool the kiln off. He went to another part of the pottery and about 3:30 o'clock the balance of the door fell out. The heat in the kiln was so intense the roof about the kiln was set on fire.

The brightness of the flame attracted the attention of Night Engineer Albert Fisher, of the Laughlin pottery No. 2, and blowing the whistle of this plant a number of times the firemen at the East End station were awakened.

Captain Terrance looked out one of the windows at the station and seeing the bright flame made all possible haste to the National plant, after notifying the central station. Chief Morley and four firemen men to the fire, using the hill road with the hose carriage, and soon two streams of water were playing on the blaze. For a time the firemen thought the flames would set fire to the clay shops, a portion of which overlooked the roof which was on fire. A stream of water was kept on this portion of the building to prevent the flames from spreading, and although the heat cracked a number of windows in this part of the clay shop the fire was prevented from spreading.

The roof of the kilnshed was practically destroyed about kiln No. 2 and about two adjoining kilns the roof was damaged so much that it will have to be rebuilt. Luckily no ware in the kiln which set fire to the roof was damaged.

Jefferson R. Warner, president of the National Pottery company, was seen this morning, but he had little to say regarding the fire other than is presented here. The roof will be repaired at once, and the plant will not suffer any loss of time.

SCRANTON CONVENTION

A great Success and Very Interesting According to Messrs. Duffy and Orr.

Secretary T. J. Duffy, from the N. B. of O. P., and LeRoy Orr, who represented the local Trades and Labor council at the convention of the A. F. of L., just ended at Scranton, have returned home having spent a most profitable session.

While in attendance at the convention the gentlemen had a conference with Benjamin Tillett, representative of the British trades congress at the meeting. Mr. Tillett has been engaged to deliver an address at Trenton on Jan. 6, and the potters and other trades unionists there have a rare treat in store for them.

The British representative is one of the most eloquent and forceful speakers who ever addressed a meeting of the Federation. He is a docker by trade, and is among the foremost labor leaders in England.

The local delegates report a very successful meeting. There were 312 delegates in attendance, and while there was nothing before the convention which will in any way affect the pottery trades, many questions of general importance to wage earners were acted upon. Mr. Orr will probably make his report at the meeting of trades council to be held this week.

MONEY FOR CHRISTMAS

Banks of This City Will Get a Supply of New Bills.

Two of the banks of the city will, within the next few days receive new money from Washington for the accommodation of their customers who desire to give money as Christmas tokens. The money will be of paper and the dimensions will vary from $1 to $20. Almost all banks of any prominence have arranged for a supply of new bills, which will be sent direct from the bureau of engraving and printing at Washington, and these will be exchanged for the old money for the asking.

In the past gold coin has not been in demand so much in East Liverpool for Christmas gifts as paper, but if this sort of money is desired the banks have a good supply on hand, one of the banks having more than $12,000 in gold at its command.

BEFORE THE MAYOR

A FEW OFFENDERS FINED FOR THEIR MISDEEDS.

Tramps Sheltered And Ordered Away. Will Have to Bathe Hereafter.

Offenders before the mayor this morning were few. Cold nights compel the shelterless tramps to hunt for cover. Three men were given lodging and two were permitted to take an early departure from the town, but the third "Willie" did not wish to be in any hurry. He claimed to be a distant relative of W. K. Vanderbilt, but in distress.

Chief Thompson suggested that his case would be ameliorated by a trip to the workhouse. The fellow was undaunted and asked that he might be given 60 days. Finally the fellow was given a sharp talk and told to get out of town.

Chief Thompson has decided to place a tub of cold water and large cake of strong soap in the lockup and compel the lodgers to take morning baths when they are guests of the city.

David ("Slick") Woolley was found peacefully sleeping off a jag in an alley near the Third street building by Officer Davidson yesterday afternoon. Woolley's assessment was $5.50.

R. W. Smith, who was arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct and for terrifying women on Washington street yesterday afternoon, was fined $5.00.

Henry Sawyer, of New Cumberland, W. Va., was arrested last night by Officer John Spence for being drunk and creating a disturbance in the East End. Sawyer claims that when he returned from work Saturday night his wife demanded all of his wages. They held different views on the subject. To spite his spouse Henry visited East Liverpool and got bolting drunk. His honor fixed Henry's contribution at $5.00.

UNIQUE CHRISTMAS GIFT

Wonder Bag Sent to Western Missionaries By Presbyterian Church Ladies.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church of this city and their friends, a few days since, were instrumental in the sending of a "wonder bag" to two missionaries in the far west. Miss Kate Macbeth and Miss Mazie Crawford, the latter for some time a resident of this city.

The bag contained all sorts of pretty as well as useful things. They were labelled and each lady is, according to the arrangements, permitted to take one parcel from the bag on each alternate Saturday.

The prospective recipients of the "wonder bag" are missionaries among the Indians in Idaho, and the bag will arrive in time to be considered a Christmas gift. Besides the gifts, it bears the best wishes of a host of friends.

Red Cross Meeting.

THE SCREEN LAW IN FULL EFFECT

The Regulation Is Being Enforced In All the Saloons of the City.

POLICE CAVE REMINDERS

To Those Who Had Forgotten the Edict on the Subject—The Mayor Firm in His Resolve to Stop Sunday Selling.

The screen ordinance went into effect last night. By the recent decision of the court a portion of the ordinance which the liquor league was fighting was held to be valid and the mayor announced that the measure would be enforced to the strict letter of the law.

Screens must not obscure a view of the bar from the street between the hours of 9 p. m. and 7 a. m. Police made the rounds last evening and found the saloonists removing their screens at 9 o'clock.

Chief of Police Thompson was on hand and, in a few instances, found dealers who had temporarily forgotten the regulation, but they hurriedly removed the screens.

Mayor Davidson says that the edict against Sunday selling will be as closely adhered to as it was last Sunday, when one violator was given the full penalty of $100 and costs. The mayor said that he felt justified in making the fine all that could be imposed. He had declared that he would fine any saloon keeper who sold liquor on Sunday all that he was empowered by the statute and that he would have been a base coward to have made the fine any less.

Further violations will be given the same treatment. The mayor declares that he will stop Sunday selling if he has to employ enough special officers to post one at the rear entrance of every saloon in town. No intoxicants will be permitted to be sold after hours during the week.

Mr. Flood has left the west and is now on his way home, but is making a tour of some of the large cities of the west before returning here. It is not likely that he will return to the west, it being said that he will remain here.

Badly Hurt by a Fall.

Andrew Reed, residing in Jethro hollow, fell Saturday evening on the ice just as he was about to enter the front door of his home, injuring his left shoulder. Mr. Reed is about 70 years old, and for several years has been carrying papers in that part of the city. There was some snow on the ground where he fell which saved him from greater injury.

Fire, causing a loss of probably $500, occurred at the National pottery at an early hour this morning, and had it not been for the quick action of the firemen at the East End station, considerable more damage would have been done.

Sunday afternoon kiln No. 2, containing biscuit ware, was fired off, and at 2 o'clock this morning Night Watchman George Hutchinson took a number of bricks from the kiln door to cool the kiln off. He went to another part of the pottery and about 3:30 o'clock the balance of the door fell out. The heat in the kiln was so intense, the roof about the kiln was set on fire.

The brightness of the flame attracted the attention of Night Engineer Albert Fisher, of the Laughlin pottery No. 2, and blowing the whistle of this plant a number of times the firemen at the East End station were awakened.

Captain Terrance looked out one of the windows at the station and seeing the bright flame made all possible haste to the National plant, after notifying the central station. Chief Morley and four firemen men to the fire, using the hill road with the hose carriage, and soon two streams of water were playing on the blaze. For a time the firemen thought the flames would set fire to the clay shops, a portion of which overlooked the roof which was on fire. A stream of water was kept on this portion of the building to prevent the flames from spreading, and although the heat cracked a number of windows in this part of the clay shop the fire was prevented from spreading.

The roof of the kilnshed was practically destroyed about kiln No. 2 and about two adjoining kilns the roof was damaged so much that it will have to be rebuilt. Luckily no ware in the kiln which set fire to the roof was damaged.

Jefferson R. Warner, president of the National Pottery company, was seen this morning, but he had little to say regarding the fire other than is presented here. The roof will be repaired at once, and the plant will not suffer any loss of time.

SCRANTON CONVENTION

A great Success and Very Interesting According to Messrs. Duffy and Orr.

Secretary T. J. Duffy, from the N. B. of O. P., and LeRoy Orr, who represented the local Trades and Labor council at the convention of the A. F. of L., just ended at Scranton, have returned home having spent a most profitable season.

While in attendance at the convention the gentlemen had a conference with Benjamin Tillett, representative of the British trades congress at the meeting. Mr. Tillett has been engaged to deliver an address at Trenton on Jan. 6, and the potters and other trades unionists there have a rare treat in store for them.

The British representative is one of the most eloquent and forceful speakers who ever addressed a meeting of the Federation. He is a docker by trade, and is among the foremost labor leaders in England.

The local delegates report a very successful meeting. There were 312 delegates in attendance, and while there was nothing before the convention which will in any way affect the pottery trades, many questions of general importance to wage earners were acted upon. Mr. Orr will probably make his report at the meeting of trades council to be held this week.

MONEY FOR CHRISTMAS

Banks of This City Will Get a Supply of New Bills.

Two of the banks of the city will, within the next few days receive new money from Washington for the accommodation of their customers who desire to give money as Christmas tokens. The money will be of paper and the dimensions will vary from $1 to $20. Almost all banks of any prominence have arranged for a supply of new bills, which will be sent direct from the bureau of engraving and printing at Washington, and these will be exchanged for the old money for the asking.

In the past gold coin has not been in demand so much in East Liverpool for Christmas gifts as paper, but if this sort of money is desired the banks have a good supply on hand, one of the banks having more than $12,000 in gold at its command.

BEFORE THE MAYOR

A FEW OFFENDERS FINED FOR THEIR MISDEEDS.

Tramps Sheltered And Ordered Away. Will Have to Bathe Hereafter.

Offenders before the mayor this morning were few. Cold nights compel the shelterless tramps to hunt for cover. Three men were given lodging and two were permitted to take an early departure from the town, but the third "Willie" did not wish to be in any hurry. He claimed to be a distant relative of W. K. Vanderbilt, but in distress.

Chief Thompson suggested that his case would be ameliorated by a trip to the workhouse. The fellow was undaunted and asked that he might be given 60 days. Finally the fellow was given a sharp talk and told to get out of town.

Chief Thompson has decided to place a tub of cold water and large cake of strong soap in the lockup and compel the lodgers to take morning baths when they are guests of the city.

David ("Slick") Woolley was found peacefully sleeping off a jag in an alley near the Third street building by Officer Davidson yesterday afternoon. Woolley's assessment was $5.50.

R. W. Smith, who was arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct and for terrifying women on Washington street yesterday afternoon, was fined $5.50.

Henry Sawyer, of New Cumberland, W. Va., was arrested last night by Officer John Spence for being drunk and creating a disturbance in the East End. Sawyer claims that when he returned from work Saturday night his wife demanded all of his wages. They held different views on the subject. To spite his spouse Henry visited East Liverpool and got boiling drunk. His honor fixed Henry's contribution at $5.50.

UNIQUE CHRISTMAS GIFT

Wonder Bag Sent to Western Missionaries By Presbyterian Church Ladies.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church of this city and their friends, a few days since, were instrumental in the sending of a "wonder bag" to two missionaries in the far west, Miss Kate Macbeth and Miss Mazie Crawford, the latter for some time a resident of this city.

The bag contained all sorts of pretty as well as useful things. They were labelled and each lady is, according to the arrangements, permitted to take one parcel from the bag on each alternate Saturday.

The prospective recipients of the "wonder bag" are missionaries among the Indians in Idaho, and the bag will arrive in time to be considered a Christmas gift. Besides the gifts, it bears the best wishes of a host of friends.

THE SCREEN LAW IN FULL EFFECT

The Regulation Is Being Enforced In All the Saloons of the City.

POLICE GAVE REMINDERS

To Those Who Had Forgotten the Edict on the Subject—The Mayor Firm in His Resolve to Stop Sunday Selling.

The screen ordinance went into effect last night. By the recent decision of the court a portion of the ordinance which the liquor league was fighting was held to be valid and the mayor announced that the measure would be enforced to the strict letter of the law.

Screens must not obscure a view of the bar from the street between the hours of 9 p. m. and 7 a. m. Police made the rounds last evening and found the saloonists removing their screens at 9 o'clock.

Chief of Police Thompson was on hand and, in a few instances, found dealers who had temporarily forgotten the regulation, but they hurriedly removed the screens.

Mayor Davidson says that the edict against Sunday selling will be as closely adhered to as it was last Sunday, when one violator was given the full penalty of $100 and costs. The mayor said that he felt justified in making the fine all that could be imposed. He had declared that he would fine any saloon keeper who sold liquor on Sunday all that he was empowered by the statute and that he would have been a base coward to have made the fine any less.

Further violations will be given the same treatment. The mayor declares that he will stop Sunday selling if he has to employ enough special officers to post one at the rear entrance of every saloon in town. No intoxicants will be permitted to be sold after hours during the week.

Mr. Flood has left the west and is now on his way home, but is making a tour of some of the large cities of the west before returning here. It is not likely that he will return to the west, it being said that he will remain here.

Badly Hurt by a Fall.

Andrew Reed, residing in Jethro hollow, fell Saturday evening on the ice just as he was about to enter the front door of his home, injuring his left shoulder. Mr. Reed is about 70 years old, and for several years has been carrying papers in that part of the city. There was some snow on the ground where he fell which saved him from greater injury.

EAST END

EAST END'S GROWTH

Well Illustrated By the Increased Business of the Postoffice There.

Announcement has been made that the business at the East End post-office for the present month will be the largest in the history of that branch. While no figures will be obtainable until the last of the month, it is reasonable to believe that the entire business for the month will amount to close to $1,000, which is indeed large.

This is one way to tell that the East End is growing, and very rapidly. Twice as much mail is being handled now as before, and the clerks at the station are very busy. Incoming mail is very large, and the same can be said of the local mail. Yesterday morning about 100 pieces of first-class mail matter were placed on the early Cleveland express, outside of the mail which was in the pouch. There has been quite a noticeable increase in the money order department of this station during the last few weeks.

A CHURCH BAZAAR

To Which Mrs. Roosevelt Made a Very Interesting Donation.

The Young Peoples' Society of the Second U. P. church of St. George street, will give a bazaar and entertainment in the lecture room of the church this evening. During the entertainment a handkerchief, presented to the society by Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of President Roosevelt, will be offered for sale. This token was sent to the society from the "first lady of the land" at the request of a little daughter of Elmer Stevenson.

Installation of Officers.

The following officers, recently elected by the Neville Institute mission of the Second M. E. church, will be installed during the evening of Jan. 21: Superintendent, Charles E. Swan; assistant superintendent, Lawrence T. Smith; secretary, Ora Martin; assistant secretary, Anna Martin; treasurer, Charles Saner; organist, Elsie Dickey; assistant organist, Minnie Herbert.

Covered With a Shell of Ice.

Considerable ice is in Beaver creek at Smith's Ferry, which varies from one to three inches in thickness. The high water in the river yesterday caused much back water in the creek, and it is this water that is frozen. The river is now falling leaving the ice intact, but it is considered unsafe for skaters, as the ice is nothing more than a shell in its present condition.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Miss Ida Betts will leave for Canton Saturday to visit friends for a few days.

Mrs. Mollie Hanley, who has been ill with a severe attack of grip for a few weeks, is recovering.

The foundation for the new house to be erected on Pennsylvania avenue by William Patterson will be completed soon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Dawson, whose marriage occurred at Nehannock Falls, Pa., a few days ago, returned to the East End last evening.

Car 18, of the East Liverpool street railway, which was damaged in a wreck a few days ago, has been repaired and is now ready for the painters. It will not be placed on the road for several days.

GREAT RELIGIOUS WORK

A Y. M. C. A. Official Writes of 1,500 Conversions in Japan in Three Weeks.

John R. Mott, one of the international secretaries of the Y. M. C. A., writes to a friend in this city of the phenomenal success attending his efforts in Japan. He says: "I first went to Kyoto, the head center of Buddhism in Japan. It is said that there are not less than 10,000 Buddhist priests in this city. It stands next to Tokyo as an educational community and is a much more difficult place to move. During a three days' meeting 173 young men decided to become Christians. Osaka, the commercial metropolis of the country, was the next field of labor. In that place within two days 275 young men were influenced to become disciples of Jesus Christ as Savior. At Okayama, which is also a large student community, we had a most remarkable student meeting. This was the only one held in the place. Not only was the hall packed to the utmost limit, but beyond the doors and 10 open windows stood crowds of students listening intently throughout the entire meeting. In this one meeting 206 young men decided for Christ. It stirred the city to the depths.

"The last place on my regular schedule was Kumamoto, which is without doubt the most conservative student city in Japan. There, however, in two meetings 211 young men decided to become Christians. Moreover, I was invited to give a lecture on 'The Influence of Christianity Among Students Throughout the World' in the government higher college before all the students and professors.

"The evangelistic meetings in all the cities have been the most fruitful I have ever held. During less than three weeks devoted largely to this work nearly, if not quite, 1,500 young men have decided to become Christians, of whom over 1,000 were students."

How to Prevent Croup.

It will be good news to the mothers of small children to learn that croup can be prevented. The first sign of the disease is hoarseness. A day or two before the attack the child becomes hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. That remedy is used in this way by many thousands of mothers, and has never been known to fail. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon, and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

Zero Weather Proved a Blessing, In Pittsburg and Vicinity.

40 FEET OF WATER EXPECTED,

Last Night, at Cincinnati, by Tomorrow—Coalboats Carried Away About Pittsburg—Big Damage in Eastern Pennsylvania.

Pittsburg, Dec. 17.—Zero weather and high water combined yesterday to make Pittsburg and vicinity uncomfortable yesterday. It was a day of discomfort, but not of special danger. The Allegheny river reached its greatest height, 28 feet, at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, and remained stationary until 10 o'clock, when it started to fall, setting at rest all fears of further damage or continued high water.

The greatest losers by the winter flood of 1901 were the river interests, the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company having a fleet of empty coalboats, valued at about $50,000, carried away, but salvage on this property will greatly reduce that estimate.

More From Cold Than Flood.

Suffering because of the cold was far more in evidence than that caused by the high water. Twenty-five feet had been promised at Pittsburg, but the blizzard kept the figure down, and not many mills or business houses were obliged to close. At Davis Island dam only 24.3 feet was recorded. Here the river began to fall at noon, and at midnight stood 21.3 feet. At Herra Island dam 28 feet, the maximum height, was reached at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. It remained stationary till 9 o'clock, then began to fall.

Davis Island dam is piled high with the wreckage of runaway coal barges. The channel is not blocked, however, and it is not expected it will be. Towboats are working energetically to clear the stream and allow about 15,000,000 bushels of coal to start south today or tomorrow. That much is ready for shipment on the present rise. The current of the river is sufficient to clear the way for the great fleet when once started on its way south.

Cincinnati, Dec. 17.—The thermometer registered 13 degrees above zero early last evening, but the weather bureau predicted colder weather before morning.

Forty Feet Was Expected.

The Ohio river had been rising rapidly at almost every point between here and Pittsburg. At Pittsburg and Charleston it had passed the danger line, while at Portsmouth it was rising six inches an hour and already had reached a 35-foot stage. At dark last night the stage in this city was 27 feet 8 inches, a rise of 4 feet 3 inches in 12 hours. The river men here were of the opinion that 40 feet will be reached by Thursday morning, after which a fall was anticipated. The rise above caught the river men unprepared and many towboats were torn from their fastenings, but nearly all of them were recovered before much damage was done.

RECOVERING SLOWLY FROM STORM'S EFFECTS.

Three Deaths From Flood in Pennsylvania—Damage Done Was Enormous.

Philadelphia, Dec. 17.—Advices from all sections of the eastern half of Pennsylvania over which area Saturday night's storm raged furiously, were to the effect that the waters covering the flooded districts were receding and that railroad and telegraphic communication were slowly being restored. From Towanda last night came the announcement of three deaths caused by the flood near that town, and the additional statement that two others might die from the effects of exposure. The damage to property and the pecuniary loss from enforced suspension of many industries may reach many hundreds of thousands of dollars. Dozens of coalmines are flooded, along with hundreds of industrial concerns located along the waterways, thus throwing idle thousands of men. It is estimated that more than 40,000 persons have been rendered idle. The Susquehanna river, which rose at some points 29 feet above low water mark, was going down gradually, except in the lower end of the state, where it was reported to be rising two inches an hour. The good reports from up-river points, however, had allayed fear, and the indications were that the southern end of the state would suffer little from the swollen river.

Railroad Situation Improved.

The railroad situation was gradually becoming better. Up to 5 o'clock last night, when the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad started a train for New York, direct communication with New York was cut off from Scranton and Wilkesbarre, and trains were sent via Sunbury, Harrisburg and Philadelphia, a distance of 330 miles. The direct route is only 145 miles.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey was still tied up as far as through service was concerned. Trains were being run between local points. The Lehigh Valley railroad last night opened its through service between Buffalo and New York city by making a detour over branch lines.

BIG FLOODS IN MAINE.

That State Suffered Severely From the Results of a Severe Storm.

Portland, Me., Dec. 17.—This state was suffering last night from one of the severest storms in its history. Floods and washouts had done tremendous damage. The Maine Central railroad has moved no trains since early Sunday. The Bangor and Aroostook railroad and the Canadian Pacific lines were in nearly as bad condition. The great mills on the Androscoggin, Kennebec and Penobscot rivers were almost all unable to start their machinery Monday morning, because of high water, and thousands of men were temporarily without work. Many cities and towns reported that great damage had been done to streets, families had been driven from their homes and street railways were inoperative from floods. Many districts were inaccessible because of bad roads. Telegraphic and telephonic communication, though interrupted between numerous points, had stood the strain well.

Up to last night only one death had been reported, that of a fireman named Patton, on the Canadian Pacific railroad, whose engine plunged into a washout. A similar accident on the Maine Central resulted in the injury of three persons, one of whom may die.

Madison, on the upper Kennebec river, sustained the greatest damage from floods of any place, it being fully half a million dollars. Logs and ice crushed buildings and overturned many others, especially in one section of the town, where there are large mills.

The water, when at its highest, was three feet beyond the highest record in the great "pumpkin freshet" of 1869. A million feet of lumber was washed away. The Great Northern Paper company's loss was very heavy. Its expensive electrical machinery was ruined and 15 carloads of finished paper were destroyed.

Fully Insured.

You and we are both insured against loss, for the manufacturers agree to refund the purchase price if you do not realize what they claim for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in cases of Constipation, Indigestion, Sick Headache or Stomach Troubles. Sold by W. & W. pharmacy.

IN A NEW ROLE.

Success of Virginia Harned in "Alice of Old Vincennes."

Virginia Harned, who is this year playing the title role in "Alice of Old Vincennes," is exceptionally beautiful and is an actress who has achieved considerable success in her profession. The early portion of her stage career was passed in England, where she made her debut in the London revival of "Our Boys." Soon after this she came to this country, and her first important engagement was with the Rehan company, in which she played important parts.

Several years ago Miss Harned appeared in the principal comedy role of "A Long Lane" and as a result was engaged as leading lady to support Mr. E. H. Sothern, the well known actor. She created the parts of Clara.

Dexter in "The Master of Woodbarrow," the dancing girl in the play of that name and Fanny in "Lettarblair."

Miss Harned became the wife of Mr. Sothern a few years ago and for some time enacted the leading roles in his plays. When the book "Alice of Old Vincennes" was published, it was decided to dramatize it and send Miss Harned starring in it. The protagol role just suits her style of acting, and she has scored a great success.

The acting of Miss Harned is distinguished by a subtle power, and exquisite tone inflections mark her voice. She possesses a remarkable faculty of making all the characters she portrays irresistibly winning and attractive.

A movement which is to be pushed by boards of trade and chambers of commerce throughout the country has just been inaugurated. It has for its object the reform of the American consular service through the enactment by congress of the Lodge bill. Although that bill is generally admitted to be an equitable and eminently desirable measure, the last congress exhibited a great indifference as to its fate, and the present one is quite likely to follow in its footsteps unless spurred to activity. To arouse interest in consular reform, an executive committee of which H. A. Garfield, of Cleveland, is chairman, was recently appointed at a meeting in Washington of delegates from the commercial bodies of the 12 largest cities in the country. That committee is now beginning work in Cleveland and similar work will soon be in progress in all the great cities. Effort will be made to put forth to interest business men and to prevail upon them to write to their congressmen and secure their support for the bill. The matter is of the utmost importance to manufacturers, merchants and importers generally.

The extension of markets for American goods is indispensable to continued commercial prosperity, and competent men in the consular service can aid this species of trade expansion as no other agency possibly can. Under the present system—rather, lack of system—all the 1,100 or more men in the consular service are appointed by the president and can be removed at any time. Each time the administration changes almost the entire consular service is changed. Recommendations of congressmen go a long way in filling the vacancies, and it too frequently happens that competency and fitness are not considered, but that consulates are distributed as rewards for party services and to pay political debts. It is a wonder, considering the opportunities for abuse, that the consular service is half as efficient as it is, and that glaring examples of incompetency are not more frequent than they have been.

The purpose of the Lodge bill is to make the consular business a profession to which men of first-rate talent may aspire, with the prospect of continuing in it and rising, instead of being turned out at the end of a few years simply because their place is wanted as one of the spoils of office. The bill puts the men in the consular service under civil service rules, provides for advancement and promotion of the worthy, establishes other regulations looking toward having all posts, whether of minor or great importance, filled with trained men, who shall have a thorough understanding of the duties they are to perform. The prospects of passing this bill are excellent, providing the business men of the country show that they are in earnest in demanding its passage.

Senator Hanna has been devoting his attention to a matter of moment to all America. In a conference between representatives of labor and capital which opened in New York on Monday, he is to take a conspicuous part. C. M. Schwab, Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell, Archbishop Ireland, Bishop Potter and others are equally well known parties to the conference. Complete harmony between labor and capital is the object sought, and the subject is almost as momentous as that which engrossed the attention of the peace congress at The Hague. Of his wishes in the matter Senator Hanna said: "I would rather have the credit of making successful the movement to bring labor and capital into closer relations of confidence and reliance than be president of the United States. If by resigning my seat in the United States senate I could bring to fruition the plans that we are now fostering to make strikes, lockouts, and great labor disputes impossible, I would gladly do so. I think it is the grandest thing that could be accomplished in this country. I would want no greater monument than to have the world remember that I did something to end wars between American labor and American capital." A more laudable or lofty ambition it would be difficult for language to express. If all the parties to the conference are imbued with the same spirit, since all are men of wide influence, their words and their example can do much toward bringing about that "dynamism" in the industrial world which all friends of peace and progress so ardently desire. Labor disputes are ruinous to the interests of the participants and productive of incalculable harm to the general public. To banish distrust and establish confidence between the elements so frequently at war is a task of enormous magnitude. If it can be accomplished, the men who bring it about will deserve to be ranked among the greatest benefactors the world has known.

The small boy with his fast running sled and the purveyor of gas with his merrily-moving meter are alike happy.

The knots in the Republican lines will all be straightened out before the legislature meets.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pierce, aged 83, wife of Cain Pierce, of Wellsville, died at 1 o'clock this afternoon after a few days' illness. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

AT THE THEATER

Al G. Field's minstrels come to the opera house tonight larger and better than ever. The stage settings are on a greater scale than any that have been seen here in years. The first part is particularly fine with its bright and scintillating Buffalo exposition features. The show will no doubt be greeted by one of the largest houses of the season.

The big noonday parade was a whole show in itself. The band is one of the finest ever heard in this city and is larger than ever this year. The free concert in the Diamond attracted hundreds of people who thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment.

The "Alvin Joslin" company appeared before a medium sized house at the Grand last night. The playing was not above mediocrity. Some of the singing introduced was fine, and by far the best feature of the whole performance.

"The American Girl" is the title of a new play written by a dramatist well known to the theater-going public, H. Gratton Donnelly, author of "Natural Gas," "Ship Ahoy," "Dark-est Russia," etc., which will be seen here Friday night.

POTTERY NEWS

Business men of Salineville are taking energetic steps to insure the growth of the town and are doing their utmost to attract industries. Six weeks ago several of the enterprising citizens conferred with W. H. Deldrick, of East Liverpool, relative to the establishing of a pottery in that town.

Mr. Deldrick told them that if he received a bonus of $10,000 he and his associates would establish a two-kiln plant and that for $25,000 and the ground on which to locate the buildings he would put up a six-kiln plant.

The citizens got down to business and purchased three tracts of ground. For a five-acre piece of ground they paid $3,200; for another $1,400 and for a 40-acre tract $2,000, making a total outlay of $6,600.

Engineer J. A. George, of East Liverpool, platted the ground into lots for the Salineville people and on last Saturday the sale of the lots was held. A valuation of each lot had been made and announced. No purchaser was permitted to obtain a lot at less than the valuation.

Rain fell while the sale was being conducted and Mr. Deldrick, who was present, advised that the sale be postponed. His advice was unheeded, but $27,000 worth of lots was sold, the lots ranging in price from $75 to $560.

The sale was continued yesterday with the result that the sales were swelled over $2,000 more, and the lots have not as yet been nearly all sold. Mr. Deldrick will receive the $25,000 bonus for the erection of a six-kiln plant, which will be begun within a few days.

A large substantial building, 200 feet in length by 50 feet in width will be erected. Salineville people who designated themselves as the Salineville Land company will not only have sufficient money to pay the $25,000 bonus, and give the pottery people a fair tract, but will have sufficient money left when more lots are sold to pay for their outlay and the grading of the streets in the new addition.

Ambrose J. Cartwright, for many years connected with the Cartwright Pottery company, but more recently receiver of the Union Pottery company, before that plant was placed under the control of the Union Pottery company, has closed a contract with the Barborton Pottery company, whereby he will become general manager of that plant upon its completion, which will not be later than next June. He will leave for Barborton, probably Feb. 1, and will move his family there later.

Mr. Cartwright has been identified with the pottery industry in this city for the past 20 years, being associated with his father, William Cartwright. When the Cartwright Pottery company was incorporated in 1897, he became interested financially in the company and continued to hold stock in the company, although being interested in the Union Pottery as its receiver after the resignation of Receiver Jefferson R. Warner, now president of the National. Mr. Cartwright has become financially interested in the Barborton company, and his success in his new field is assured.

Work has been resumed at the Taylor, Smith and Taylor pottery, but a shut down will occur during the holidays, at which time the endless chain elevator will be removed and a table elevator substituted.

A deal is pending for the transfer of 21 shares of stock of the Union Pottery company. It is probable it will be closed this week.

NAPOLÉON'S ORDER

THE LEGION OF HONOR AND HOW IT WAS FOUNDED.

Despite the ridicule the Project at First Invited its Inauguration Proved That Napoleon Knew French Human Nature.

France owes the Legion of Honor to Napoleon. All orders of chivalry had been abolished by the revolution and had left a gap which it was not easy to fill. "They are mere geegaws," said Monge, the chemist, who had taught the revolutionists how to make gunpowder out of plaster of paris. "Geegaws, if you will," the first consul answered, "but people like them. Let us approach the question frankly. All men are enamored of decorations—the French more than any. They positively hunger for them, and they have always done so."

This was at Malmaison in 1802. In May the conseil d'etat was invited to consider the project of the institution of the Legion of Honor. It was ridiculed by many, notably by Moreau, who as victor of Hohenlinden was bitterly jealous of the victor of Marengo. At a dinner party he sent for his cook and said to him in the presence of his guests: "Michel, I am pleased with your dinner. You have indeed distinguished yourself. I will award you a sauceman of honor." Mme. de Stael was also satirical upon the subject. "Ah, one of the decorated?" she used to ask each guest who was shown into her salon.

But Napoleon had gauged human nature correctly. His Legion of Honor did meet a felt want, and it was definitely inaugurated on July 14, 1804. Among the eminent men of science and men of letters on whom it was then bestowed were included Laplace, the mathematician; Lalande, the astronomer; Cuvier, the naturalist, and Legouvie, the poet. The most notable name omitted was that of Bernardin de St. Pierre, just then in disgrace for championing Mme. de Stael, whom Napoleon had banished, but he got the decoration later on the entreaty of Queen Hortense.

After Jena Goethe was decorated. A little later high promotion in the order was given to General Lamarque, to whom Sir Hudson Lowe had surrendered at Capri. "What did you do with him?" asked Napoleon. "The king of Naples had him exchanged for a Neapolitan general who was a prisoner in Sicily." "Very well; there is no harm in letting this English colonel go. He is not dangerous." It seems not unlikely that Sir Hudson Lowe remembered this sarcasm when he was Napoleon's jailer a few years afterward.

After Napoleon's downfall the question of suppressing the Legion of Honor arose. Chateaubriand, whom Napoleon had not decorated, strongly urged its abolition. So did Puzzo di Borgo, Marshals Victor, Marmont and Macdonald opposed. After debate it was decided to recognize and retain the order, not on any high moral or patriotic grounds, but because Louis XVIII. could not afford to make himself more unpopular than he was already by stripping people of their decorations. Chateaubriand and Lamartine consented to accept the red ribbon, but it was also conferred upon a great number of worthless personages and so brought into contempt.

There have been many Legion of Honor scandals since those days, but one of them surpasses all the others in magnitude. This is, of course, the Wilson scandal, the history of which, though intricate, is worth recalling.

The trouble may be said to have begun on the day on which Mlle. Allee Grevy fell in love with an opera singer who need not be mentioned here. He wanted to marry her, and she wanted to marry him, and the papers were beginning to couple the two names in a manner most embarrassing to the president of the republic. The president, however, sent the opera singer about his business and found his daughter another husband, not a very good husband, but the best husband he could procure on the spur of the moment. His choice fell upon M. Daniel Wilson, who had long been one of M. Grevy's political supporters and was a financier of some mark.

No sooner was M. Wilson established at the Elysee than he proceeded to enrich himself by various means. Among other things, he founded a paper called Le Moniteur de l'Exposition Universelle, which really covered a traffic in decorations. The whole story came out in a state trial toward the end of 1887. It was proved that Wilson had made a regular practice of selling the Legion of Honor, or, rather, of inviting people who wanted it to bribe him to use his influence to obtain it for them. His overtures were presented through his jacksals, Generals d'Audlan and Caffarel and Mmes. Limousin and Ratazzi, and the whole party had to stand in the dock together.

Wilson was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, a fine of 3,000 francs and five years' deprivation of civil rights. He appealed, and the court of cassation annulled the judgment. The accused, said the judges, was obviously guilty of everything that he was charged with, but as his offenses were not anticipated by any punitive law he could not be punished. So he retired to the country and tried to live down his bad name. As he ultimately got himself elected councillor general, one must suppose that he succeeded in this object.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A movement which is to be pushed by boards of trade and chambers of commerce throughout the country has just been inaugurated. It has for its object the reform of the American consular service through the enactment by congress of the Lodge bill. Although that bill is generally admitted to be an equitable and eminently desirable measure, the last congress exhibited a great indifference as to its fate, and the present one is quite likely to follow in its footsteps unless spurred to activity. To arouse interest in consular reform, an executive committee of which H. A. Garfield, of Cleveland, is chairman, was recently appointed at a meeting in Washington of delegates from the commercial bodies of the 13 largest cities in the country. That committee is now beginning work in Cleveland and similar work will soon be in progress in all the great cities. Effort will be made to put forth to interested business men and to prevail upon them to write to their congressmen and secure their support for the bill. The matter is of the utmost importance to manufacturers, merchants and importers generally.

The extension of markets for American goods is indispensable to continued commercial prosperity, and competent men in the consular service can aid this species of trade expansion as no other agency possibly can. Under the present system—rather, lack of system—all the 1,100 or more men in the consular service are appointed by the president and can be removed at any time. Each time the administration changes almost the entire consular service is changed. Recommendations of congressmen go a long way in filling the vacancies, and it too frequently happens that competency and fitness are not considered, but that consulates are distributed as rewards for party services and to pay political debts. It is a wonder, considering the opportunities for abuse, that the consular service is half as efficient as it is, and that glaring examples of incompetency are not more frequent than they have been.

The purpose of the Lodge bill is to make the consular business a profession to which men of first-rate talent may aspire, with the prospect of continuing in it and rising, instead of being turned out at the end of a few years simply because their place is wanted as one of the spoils of office. The bill puts the men in the consular service under civil service rules, provides for advancement and promotion of the worthy, establishes other regulations looking toward having all posts, whether of minor or great importance, filled with trained men, who shall have a thorough understanding of the duties they are to perform. The prospects of passing this bill are excellent, providing the business men of the country show that they are in earnest in demanding its passage.

Senator Hanna has been devoting his attention to a matter of moment to all America. In a conference between representatives of labor and capital which opened in New York on Monday, he is to take a conspicuous part. C. M. Schwab, Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell, Archbishop Ireland, Bishop Potter and others are equally well known parties to the conference. Complete harmony between labor and capital is the object sought, and the subject is almost as momentous as that which engrossed the attention of the peace congress at The Hague. Of his wishes in the matter Senator Hanna said: "I would rather have the credit of making successful the movement to bring labor and capital into closer relations of confidence and reliance than be president of the United States. If by resigning my seat in the United States senate I could bring to fruition the plans that we are now fostering to make strikes, lockouts, and great labor disputes impossible, I would gladly do so. I think it is the grandest thing that could be accomplished in this country. I would want no greater monument than to have the world remember that I did something to end wars between American labor and American capital." A more laudable or lofty ambition it would be difficult for language to express. If all the parties to the conference are imbued with the same spirit, since all are men of wide influence, their words and their example, can do much toward bringing about that "changement in the industrial world" which all friends of peace and progress so ardently desire. Labor disputes are ruinous to the interests of the participants and productive of incalculable harm to the general public. To banish distrust and establish confidence between the elements so frequently at war is a task of enormous magnitude. If it can be accomplished, the men who bring it about will deserve to be ranked among the greatest benefactors the world has known.

Among other things, he founded a paper called Le Moniteur de l'Exposition Universelle, which really covered a traffic in decorations. The whole story came out in a state trial toward the end of 1887. It was proved that Wilson had made a regular practice of selling the Legion of Honor, or, rather, of inviting people who wanted it to bribe him to use his influence to obtain it for them. His overtures were presented through his jacks, Generals d'Audlan and Cafferel and Mmes. Limousin and Ratazzi, and the whole party had to stand in the dock together.

Tribulations of a New Municipality.
Warm Praise for Mayor Dunn.

Only a little over two weeks remain for Chesterites to wage their municipal campaign. It is improbable that any ordinances that are liable to evolve opposition will be introduced in the council until after the election which will be Thursday, January 2. Mayor Robert H. Dunn positively refused to be a candidate for another term, much to the regret of his many friends. Nor would he accept any other office. He said that his duties at the tin mill would not allow the time to properly attend to any public duties.

Mr. Dunn, as the first mayor of the city of Chester, has served the people with credit and honor to his own good name, which has remained unsullied. Speaking of his career in office a prominent citizen, who appears to voice the general sentiment, said: "It has been no easy task to administer the duties developing on the head of a new born municipality. When the mayor assumed office ordinances had to be passed, covering every phase of town government. The action of the mayor and council has been watched vigilantly by the people and many times has Mr. Dunn's diplomacy cooled the ardor of warring factions and been as oil on the troubled waves. The final result is that his opponents have become his friends."

Candidates Must Act.

Candidates for the offices of recorder, mayor or council have been notified that their names must be filed with G. A. Arner by 12 o'clock next Saturday night. Those failing to do so will be compelled to wait another year for a chance at the coveted offices.

Due to Forgetfulness.

James Steward, operator at the Chester depot, was the victim of an accident due to his forgetfulness. He was at work in his office and becoming chilly thought that more heat would be received if the radiator in the floor was removed. He removed the grating and in a few moments forgot that he had done so, and as a result stepped into the aperture and is now suffering from the effects of skinned limbs and a bad shaking up.

Ready to Start Wednesday.

District Manager Banfield has ordered fires started in the furnaces at the tin mill for the purpose of having everything in working order by Wednesday morning, when it is thought the mills will be put in operation.

Why She Was Silent.

A very silent old woman was once asked why it was she had so little to say. She replied that when she was a young girl she was very ill and could not talk for a long time. Whereupon she made a vow that if speech were given her once more she would never again say anything unkind of anybody. And thus she was as they found her.

He Was It.

The fresh young man walked into the restaurant and noticed a sign:

"This Counter For Clams and Oysters."

"Where is the counter for lobsters?" asked the young man.

"Oh, you can sit most anywhere!" said the waiter.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

His Mission.

A lawyer was passing along the street carrying under his arm a law-book when he was accosted by a self righteous individual: "Ha, Mr. Blank! And where are you going to preach to-day?"

"I don't preach, I practice," replied the lawyer.

West End Dwellings Surrounded—U. S. Pottery a Heavy Loser.

The very unusual stage of the river is playing havoc with property in general on the outskirts of Wellsville. Many houses in the West End are partially submerged and the occupants have moved to dry quarters. As a result the U. S. pottery will suffer a heavy loss, the water causing damage to much of the machinery and ware.

The Yellow Creek bridge is completely under water and all traffic temporarily dispensed with. The two bridges on the Lisbon road are now out of danger, but are still in close proximity to the water.

HOME TALENT SUSPECTED

Chief Morrissey's Opinion Regarding Recent Burglaries in Wellsville.

During the past few weeks three bold burglaries have occurred in Wellsville and the robbers have in each case made good their escape. Chief Morrissey said yesterday that he was confident the work had been done by home talent, also that he could place his hands on the perpetrators, but dared not do it until further evidence is procured.

The places robbed are conspicuously located on Main street and two of the entrances have been made in precisely the same manner, they being at Brannan's drug store and Dennis' plumbing shop. The burglars simply forced the cellar doors and then the rest was easy, unlocked trapped doors being put to use.

The police are endeavoring ardently to gather evidence enough to convict some suspects, and it is likely that arrests will be made before the close of the week.

HOBSON TO MARRY.

Engaged to Wed Miss Eleanor Ludlow, of Springfield,
Ohio.

NEICE OF EX-GOV. BUSHNELL.

The Ceremony to Be Performed in February—Met Her at Opening of Young Men's Christian Association
Building Last Fall.

Springfield, O., Dec. 17.—Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, of Merrimack fame, has succumbed to the wiles of cupid and his engagement was announced to Miss Eleanor Ludlow, one of the most beautiful young women in Springfield. Captain Hobson attended to the opening of the new Y. M. C. A. building in this city last fall, and while here met Miss Ludlow, who was one of the company having charge of the arrangements for the opening. He has been a frequent visitor in this city since that time, and it was currently reported that he was engaged to be married to Miss Ludlow, but not until yesterday was the secret made public.

Captain Hobson is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Miller, who gave a dinner last night in honor of the bride and bridegroom to be. Miss Ludlow is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ludlow and is a niece of former Governor Asa Bushnell. The wedding will take place in February.

MONEY SITUATION EASIER.

But Fear of Recurrence of Stringency and Copper Weakness Checked Advance.

New York, Dec. 17.—There was no renewal of consequence of the pressure of liquidation in the stock market Monday, but there was manifest hesitation about undertaking any operations for an advance. A handful of stocks were advanced by professional operations in a seeming attempt to induce a following and to influence the general market. The evidently easier condition of the money market encouraged this movement, but the fear of a recurrence of stringency and the unsettling influence of the renewed weakness in Amalgamated Copper discouraged its extension. Amalgamated Copper started downward from the opening, but recovered momentarily to 1/2 above last week's closing. It gravitated for the rest of the day, with only slight rallies to the low point at 61 1/2, where it closed. The fluctuations in the stock were not violent and traders described its action as a fall of its own weight, without any apparent artificial pressure. The net loss is 3 1/2. It is taken for granted that the renewed decline foreshadows a reduction in the dividend on Thursday, as the disbursement of dividends by a subsidiary company is tied up by injunction. The rate of dividend is expected by speculators at all the way from 1 per cent quarterly down to passing it entirely. Fears are professed, also, that the cut in the selling price of raw copper made last week is a preliminary to further cuts and to a war of rates. It was worthy of remark that in London the price of futures closed higher than for spot, for the first time since the first week in October. The prospect of the unsettling influence of mystery and uncertainty over the Amalgamated dividend rate until its actual declaration was sufficient in itself to discourage activity in the general market. The strength of the Saturday bank statement is due entirely to the speculative liquidation which took place last week. Checks for government interest in anticipation of the January payment began to come to the sub-treasury Monday, and the day's payment of the $5,000,000 Standard Oil dividend was an influence towards greater ease of money. The only stocks whose strength was conspicuous were New York Central, Manhattan, St. Louis and San Francisco, Long Island, the Iowa Central, Rubber Goods preferred and Colorado fuel. Their gains were all curtailed in sympathy with the late weakness in Amalgamated Copper. Net changes generally were narrow.

The bond market was dull and irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,755,000.

U. S. refunding 2s advanced 1/4 and the 5s, coupon, 1/2 per cent on the last call.

TRUSTS DEWEY'S JUDGMENT.

General Miles Comments Upon the Schley Verdict.

Cincinnati, Dec. 17.—General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the United States army, arrived here, accompanied by Mrs. Miles. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiborg, at Clifton. Mrs. Wiborg being a relative of Mrs. Miles. In speaking of the finding of the Schley court of inquiry, General Miles said: "I am willing to take the judgment of Admiral Dewey in the matter. He has been a commander of a fleet, and as such has known the anxieties and responsibilities which rest on a man under these circumstances. He was instrumental in the destruction of one Spanish fleet and knows and realizes the feelings that encompass an officer under such conditions. I think Dewey has summed up the matter in a clear and concise manner, and I believe his conclusions will be endorsed by the patriotic people of the United States. I have no sympathy with the efforts which have been made to destroy the honor of an officer under such circumstances."

A Brakeman Killed.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

Does it Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the most severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible. If not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles. "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Charles F. Craig's, Foutts Bldg., East Liverpool, O. Get Green's special almanac.

Its action upon the system is unlike any other external remedy, as it never drives the disease to take effect on the Internal Organs. Its properties, when applied, go directly to the diseased part, and, as it passes into the circulation, it separates all the poisonous and corrupt humors, and attracts them through the perspiring vessels to the surface, and entirely eradicates the disease from the system. It is simply asked that the afflicted will try one box, the use of which will convince the most skeptical.

It is warranted to cure the worst cases of corrupt humors and sores after all other remedies have failed or money refunded.

A SUICIDE SUSPECTED.

Thought to Have Assaulted Mrs. Dennis, at Washington.

Washington, Dec. 17.—Samuel C. Presley, a printer, 39 years old, was found dead in bed in his room at 1119 K street, the house adjoining that of Mrs. Ada Gilbert Dennis, the modiste, who was mysteriously assaulted a week ago in her apartments. Death was attributed to suicide by inhaling illuminating gas.

Presley left letters directing his burial at Many, La. The police found in his room a key fitting the vestibule door of Mrs. Dennis' house. A boy named Londale, who saw a man emerging from the Dennis house late on the night of the attempted murder, was taken to see the body of Presley and said he was quite sure he was the man, and a slouch hat, the kind worn by the man he saw, was found in the room. Stains, thought to be blood, also were found on Presley's garments.

Washington, Dec. 17.—As a result of the negotiations that have been in progress between Secretary Hay and Mr. Brun, the Danish minister, the last obstacles of substance to the preparation of the treaty of cession whereby the United States will become possessed of the Danish West Indian islands have been removed. The decision of the supreme court in the insular cases has made easier the preparation of the treaty on satisfactory lines, it is said.

LEGAL NOTICE ON MARCONI.

Telegraph Company Claims Exclusive Monopoly in Newfoundland—Inventor's Wonderful Success.

St. Johns, N. F., Dec. 17.—Marconi returned here from Cape Spear, where he experienced poor luck. The weather was rendered extremely unpleasant by fog, wind and a rain storm, and the inventor was unable to decide upon a site for his proposed station.

On returning here from Cape Spear Marconi was served with legal documents from the solicitors of the Anglo-American Telegraph company. These notify him that the said company possesses an exclusive monopoly of the telegraph business within Newfoundland and its dependencies and demand that he cease his experiments and remove his apparatus forthwith, otherwise the company will apply to the supreme court for an injunction restraining him from further trials.

Marconi has not yet decided what course of action he will take in the matter. But he regards this action on the part of the Anglo-American Telegraph company as the best proof of the importance of his new discovery.

Signor Marconi announced Saturday that he had succeeded in establishing communication between Cornwall, England, and St. Johns, Newfoundland, by means of wireless telegraphy.

LEGAL NOTICE ON MARCONI.

Telegraph Company Claims Exclusive Monopoly in Newfoundland—Inventor's Wonderful Success.

St. Johns, N. F., Dec. 17.—Marconi returned here from Cape Spear, where he experienced poor luck. The weather was rendered extremely unpleasant by fog, wind and a rain-storm, and the inventor was unable to decide upon a site for his proposed station.

On returning here from Cape Spear Marconi was served with legal documents from the solicitors of the Anglo-American Telegraph company. These notify him that the said company possesses an exclusive monopoly of the telegraph business within Newfoundland and its dependencies and demand that he cease his experiments and remove his apparatus forthwith, otherwise the company will apply to the supreme court for an injunction restraining him from further trials.

Marconi has not yet decided what course of action he will take in the matter. But he regards this action on the part of the Anglo-American Telegraph company as the best proof of the importance of his new discovery.

Signor Marconi announced Saturday that he had succeeded in establishing communication between Cornwall, England, and St. Johns, Newfoundland, by means of wireless telegraphy.

Its action upon the system is unlike any other external remedy, as it never drives the disease to take effect on the internal organs. Its properties, when applied, go directly to the diseased part, and, as it passes into the circulation, it separates all the poisonous and corrupt humors, and attracts them through the perspiring vessels to the surface, and entirely eradicates the disease from the system. It is simply asked that the afflicted will TRY ONE BOX, the use of which will convince the most skeptical.

It is warranted to cure the worst cases of corrupt humors and sores after all other remedies have failed or money refunded.

THANKS TO SCHLEY.

Jones Introduces Resolution In Senate, Conveying That of American People.

THE ADMIRAL IS TO OBJECT.

Asked Long to Withhold Approval of Verdict Until He Could File a Statement—Allowed Until Friday to Do So.

Washington, Dec. 17.—An echo of the verdict of the court of inquiry in the case of Rear Admiral Schley was heard in the senate, when Mr. Jones, of Arkansas, introduced a resolution extending the thanks of congress and to the officers and men under his command in the battle of July 3, 1898, off the harbor of Santiago, Cuba. In submitting the resolution Mr. Jones made no statement and it was referred without comment to the committee on naval affairs.

Admiral Schley and his attorney, Mr. Rayner, sent a letter to Secretary Long, asking him to withhold approval of the verdict of the court of inquiry, as he wished to file a statement of objections. The secretary replied, saying he would give him until next Friday.

THE CANAL TREATY ADOPTED.

Passed in the Senate by a Vote of 72 to 6—Quay Did Not Vote.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The Hay-Pauncefote treaty was ratified by the senate by a vote of 72 to 6.

The vote on the ratification of the treaty was as follows:

Yeas—Aldrich, Allison, Bard, Bate, Berry, Beveridge, Burnham, Burrows, Burton, Carmack, Clapp, Cockrell, (Mont.), Clark (Wyo.), Clay, Cockerell, Cullom, Deboe, Dietrich, Dillingham, Dooliver, Dubois, Fairbanks, Foraker, Foster (La.), Foster (Wash.), Frye, Gallinger, Gamble, Gibson, Hale, Hansbrough, Harris, Hawley, Heitfeld, Hoar, Jones (Ark.), Keam, Kearns, Kittredge, Lodge, McComas, McCumber, McEnery, McLaurin (Miss.), McLaurin (S. C.), McMillan, Martin, Mason, Millard, Mitchell, Money, Morgan, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Pettus, Platt (Conn.), Platt (New York), Pritchard, Proctor, Quarles, Scott, Simmons, Simon, Spooner, Stewart, Taliaferro, Turner, Vest, Warren, Wellington, Wetmore—72.

Nays—Bacon, Blackburn, Culberson, Mallory, Teller, Tillman—6.

Bailey paired with Depey and Elkins; Rawlins paired with Hanna and Sewell.

Quay was Not Paired.

Those who did not vote and for whom no pairs were announced are Daniel, Jones (Nev.), Patterson and Quay.

The vote was reached a few minutes before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after almost five hours' discussion behind closed doors. There were no sensational incidents during this entire time. The debate was confined exclusively to a discussion of the merits of the agreement and the policy of its provisions. The principal speech of the day was made by Senator Teller, in opposition to the treaty, and he was followed in rapid succession by 12 or 15 other senators, who spoke briefly either for or against the motion to ratify.

Among the other speakers of the day were Senators Clay, Fairbanks, McCumber, McLaurin, of Mississippi; Culberson, Mallory, Mason, Tillman, Bacon and Bate. Senator Clay was one of the southern senators who spoke in advocacy of the treaty. He contended that the treaty should be ratified because it secured the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. Senator Mason made a strong plea for the treaty, expressing his gratification that American diplomacy had

Scores of East Liverpool Readers Are Learning the Duties of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow.

Urinary trouble, diabetes, Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

East Liverpool people endorse our Mr. R. H. Hawkins, an employe at Sebring's pottery, who lives at 234 Second street, says: "I had been taking medicine for my kidneys right along and if I had found a cure I would have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled two years or more with distressing backache across the loins, a steady aching pain with a quick twinge now and then while stooping or lifting, that felt as if a sharp instrument had pierced my back, and the secretions of the kidneys were highly colored; feverish or slightly scalding. Work seemed to be a drag; I had no energy and I am more than thankful that I was induced to go to the W. & W. pharmacy and get Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking them there was no sign of my old complaint."

PROLONGED BY YEARS.

Short Lives Lengthened By Removing Cause of Disease.

Many Glowing Tributes Paid to Blood Wine, The Great French Discovery, Which Cures Colds, Consumption, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, etc.

That "Blood Wine" fully comes up to the expectations of our people is evidenced by the expression of satisfaction from the many who have already given it a test. "If I had to go without some of the necessities of life, I would have 'Blood Wine' in the house," said a certain gentleman living in the northern part of the city. It wards off coughs, colds, indigestion, bowel troubles and a dozen and one other diseases that are apt to attack any one. "A bottle of good medicine, always handy is the 'stitch in time' that saves suffering and misfortune, and this is just the kind of medicine that will do it." To begin away down the roots of any sickness, what is the first step to be taken? "Purify the blood," is the answer from every physician. Regulate the bowels and purify the blood. Microbes, bacteria, bacilli and all kinds of germs float through the system in the blood.

Just step and reason it out; think of your blood teeming with these myriads of little demons, floating hither and thither like wreckage on a great ocean, to be cast up against the delicate organs of the system where they find lodging places, stay, thrive and breed, perhaps in the lungs, perhaps in the throat, kidneys, heart or tender tissues of the body anywhere. This is the beginning of trouble. Cleanse your blood and you purify the whole system.

With pure blood and a good circulation no one ever contracted consumption or other fatal disease. "Blood Wine" gives new life because it makes new blood. It brings rest and quiet because it soothes the nerves; it creates a good appetite by toning up the digestive organs; it regulates the system by producing healthy, regular operations of the bowels. It kills that tired feeling and makes one feel like running, jumping and exercising; it gives elasticity to the body by acting directly on the muscles and causing them to respond to the mind's dictates. One teaspoonful of "Blood Wine" makes the blood tingle; it is instantaneous in its action and leaves no room for doubt. It contains no wine or opiates.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle but you can sample it at Will Reed and Hodson's drug stores, free of charge. It stands on its own merits; it is the only medicine that has ever been placed on sale with the local dealer authorized to keep a bottle of it always open to be administered to anyone free of cost.

secretary of the Asiatic association, which is composed of about 250 firms doing business in the far east, arranged with the president to receive a memorial from the association next Wednesday. The association is especially desirous that the door of Manchuria be kept open to our textile fabrics, and to that end wishes the government to obtain written pledges from Russia in case China relinquishes that province. It also desires the repeal of the war tax on tea, the establishment of an international bank in China and private ownership of the proposed Pacific cable.

The delegation which will call on the president Wednesday will also appear before the congressional committees on immigration to argue in favor of a modification of the Chinese exclusion act, which will permit Chinese merchants to come into this country with more freedom.

TO RETIRE OLD OFFICERS.

Root and President Favor Promoting Them First.

Washington, Dec. 17.—As indicated in his annual report, Secretary Root has renewed his efforts to secure the retirement, with an added grade, of the army officers who have participated in the three wars, the rebellion, the Indian wars and the Spanish-American war. He has in this the active support of the president. Inquiries have been directed to the senate to ascertain whether the body would ratify the nominations of a number of the old war colonels who might be advanced to brigadierships through appointment to the two existing vacancies and immediately retired. If this line of action is approved one of the brigadierships would be kept permanently vacant to serve as an outlet for deserving colonels anxious to retire with an advanced grade.

MRS. BONINE RESTORED TO CIVIL SERVICE LIST.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The civil service commission has decided to restore the name of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine, who recently was acquitted of the murder of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., to the roll of eligibles for appointment to the civil service. Just prior to the death of Ayres, Mrs. Bonine had successfully passed an examination for skilled laborer in the government printing office, but pending the result of her trial her name was held up.

TWO RAILROADERS KILLED.

Rear-End Collision Occurred at Keyser, W. Va.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 17.—A passenger train on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad crashed into the rear end of a freight train at Keyser, killing both the conductor and brakeman, who were asleep in the caboose. Their names were J. P. Maxwell and Charles Sharpe, both of Grafton, W. Va.

The wreck took fire from the passenger engine and the bodies of both men were consumed. The passenger train was running on wrong time, as a result of the storm.

STORIES OF SINGERS

TIMES WHEN THEIR VOICES WERE OF MORE WORTH THAN MONEY.

Santley's Adventure With a Band of Mexican Bandits—Some Experiences of the Tenor Mario—How Labache Put a Bear to Flight.

Many years since, when traveling with some friends in Mexico, Charles Santley was captured by halfbreed bandits and, being unable to pay the large ransom demanded, carried off to the mountains. Over supper the singer, by no means weighed down by his mishap, chanced to break into song, which so delighted the brigand chief that he demanded an encore.

Santley saw his chance and expressed his willingness to comply on condition that he and his companions were granted their release. The suggestion was accepted, and for over two hours was the singer's voice raised in such exquisite melody that the bandits, true to their word, allowed him and those with him to depart.

The late Joseph Maas had a somewhat similar experience. Years back, when with a companion buffalo hunting on the American prairies, he was captured by Indians and carried to their camp. When at his wits' end how to extricate himself from the dilemma, his friend suggested the power of song. Forthwith he commenced an operatic selection that so delighted his captors that they loosened his bonds and urged him, at the point of their spears, to continue.

Luckily his voice had a soporific effect upon the Indians, who one by one dropped asleep until, just as he was on the point of stepping from exhaustion, the last passed into the realm of dreams. Then he and his companion quietly stole away.

His wonderful voice on one occasion placed the great tenor Mario in a somewhat invidious position. When traveling with some companions in Spain, he fell into the hands of a party of marauding gypsies, who demanded the customary ransom. Mario, tickled at the situation, answered their request in impromptu song, which he delivered with such exquisite mock dignity that his captors with unanimous acclamation elected him captain of their band. The singer diplomatically acquiesced in their decision, but in the course of the following day contrived to make his escape with his friends.

On another occasion in Madrid the same singer, as he was returning late one night from the theater where he was engaged, was arrested by the police in mistake for a political discontent. In vain he asserted his identity. He was carried before their chief, who likewise smiled incredulously at the captive's asseverations.

Greatly angered, Mario vehemently demanded that his friends should be forthwith communicated with, but the official shook his head and remarked that if indeed he were the great tenor he possessed in his voice a sure means of proving the truth of his words. Ten minutes later Mario was bowed out with many regrets and profuse apologies.

When traveling to Paris with some other ladies, Mme. Grisi had a thrilling adventure. At a small wayside station a man entered the carriage, and it soon became evident from his threatening gestures and eccentric behavior that he was a dangerous lunatic.

Though her companions were panic stricken, Mme. Grisi retained complete presence of mind and with the utmost composure began to sing. At once the maniac was quiet; his whole attention was riveted on that magnificent voice, and he remained the most appreciative of listeners until the train reached the next station, where he was secured. It transpired subsequently that he was a maniac with homicidal tendencies who had escaped from an asylum.

An amusing story is told of Labache, the celebrated bass singer. One day as he was strolling leisurely through a French fair a cry was suddenly raised that a bear had escaped from the menagerie. The crowd fled in every direction—all save the singer, whose massive proportions precluded the idea of rapid motion. Amid the general commotion he among them all stood unmoved, calmly awaiting the advent of the ferocious beast, which sure enough came slouching rapidly toward him. When within a few feet, it halted as though to gather itself together for a final rush, when Labache stepped forward and from the lowest depths of his immense chest sent forth such a thunderous roar that the terrified animal turned and fled.

RHEUMATIC WARPED LIMBS.

To suffer the most excruciating pains, to lose the use of limbs, and to have the joints swollen and disfigured is the lot of the victim of rheumatism.

Uric acid in the blood is the cause of rheumatism. If the kidneys are active, they remove the uric acid. That is their special work. If, on the other hand, the kidneys are deranged, there is sure to be uric acid in the blood and rheumatic pain through the body.

No amount of liniment will ever cure rheumatism. It sometimes relieves, but cure can only be brought about by setting the kidneys right. The most effective kidney remedy known to man is Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They cure rheumatism permanently by making the kidneys active in the work of removing the uric acid from the blood.

Mr. William J. Coad, No. 65 Brunswick Street, Oswego, N. Y., writes: "I am very glad to praise Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and tell what they have done for me. I suffered for many years with severe constipation, Rheumatism and kidney trouble, and could get no relief until I took Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. THANKS TO SCHLEY.

Jones Introduces Resolution in Senate, Conveying That of American People.

THE ADMIRAL IS TO OBJECT.

Asked Long to Withhold Approval of Verdict Until He Could File a Statement—Allowed Until Friday to Co So.

Washington, Dec. 17.—An echo of the verdict of the court of inquiry in the case of Rear Admiral Schley was heard in the senate, when Mr. Jones, of Arkansas, introduced a resolution extending the thanks of congress and of the American people to Schley and to the officers and men under his command in the battle of July 3, 1898, off the harbor of Santiago, Cuba. In submitting the resolution Mr. Jones made no statement and it was referred without comment to the committee on naval affairs.

THE CANAL TREATY ADOPTED.

Passed in the Senate by a Vote of 72 to 6—Quay Did Not Vote.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The Hay-Pauncefote treaty was ratified by the senate by a vote of 72 to 6.

The vote on the ratification of the treaty was as follows:

Yeas—Aldrich, Allison, Bard, Bate, Berry, Beveridge, Burnham, Burrows, Burton, Carmack, Ciapp, Clark (Mont.), Clark (Wyo.), Clay, Cockrell, Cullom, Deboe, Dietrich, Dillingham, Dooliver, Dubois, Fairbanks, Foraker, Foster (La.), Foster (Wash.), Frye, Gallinger, Gamble, Gibson, Hale, Hansbrough, Harris, Hawley, Helfeld, Hoar, Jones (Ark.), Kean, Kearns, Kittredge, Lodge, McComas, McCumber, McEnery, McLaurin (Miss.), McLaurin (S. C.), McMillan, Martin, Mason, Millard, Mitchell, Money, Morgan, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Pettus, Platt (Conn.), Platt (New York), Pritchard, Proctor, Quarles, Scott, Simmons, Simon, Spooner, Stewart, Tallaferro, Turner, Vest, Warren, Wellington, Wetmore—72.

Nays—Bacon, Blackburn, Culberson, Mallory, Teller, Tillman—6.

Bailey paired with Dewey and Elkins; Rawlins paired with Hanna and Sewell.

Quay Was Not Paired.

Those who did not vote and for whom no pairs were announced are Daniel, Jones (Nev.), Patterson and Quay.

The vote was reached a few minutes before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after almost five hours' discussion behind closed doors. There were no sensational incidents during this entire time. The debate was confined exclusively to a discussion of the merits of the agreement and the policy of its provisions. The principal speech of the day was made by Senator Teller, in opposition to the treaty, and he was followed in rapid succession by 12 or 15 other senators, who spoke briefly either for or against the motion to ratify.

Among the other speakers of the day were Senators Clay, Fairbanks, McCumber, McLaurin, of Mississippi; Culberson, Mallory, Mason, Tillman, Bacon and Bate. Senator Clay was one of the southern senators who spoke in advocacy of the treaty. He contended that the treaty should be ratified because it secured the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. Senator Mason made a strong plea for the treaty, expressing his gratification that American diplomacy had claim.

DOING THEIR DUTY

East Liverpool people endorse our Mr. R. H. Hawkins, an employe at Sebring's pottery, who lives at 234 Second street, says: "I had been taking medicine for my kidneys right along and if I had found a cure I would have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled two years or more with distressing backache across the loins, a steady aching pain with a quick twinge now and then while stooping or lifting, that felt as if a sharp instrument had pierced my back, and the secretions of the kidneys were highly colored; feverish or slightly scalding. Work seemed to be a drag; I had no energy and I am more than thankful that I was induced to go to the W. & W. pharmacy and get Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking them there was no sign of my old complaint."

succeeded in securing such a triumph as was this treaty over the original Hay-Pauncefote agreement. Senator Bacon's speech was made in connection with a motion to amend the treaty.

The Amendments Were Defeated.

Senator Culberson offered an amendment to insert the Davis fortification amendment of the last session. This was defeated, 15 to 62.

Senator Bacon then offered an amendment striking out of the preamble in the reference to the Clayton-Bulwer treaty the words "without impairing the general principle of neutralization established in article VIII of that convention," also the following words in article II, relating to the purchase of stock, "subject to the present treaty," also of article III, relating to the neutralization of the canal; also of article IV, declaring against change of territorial sovereignty. All this was embodied in one amendment and defeated, 18 to 60.

KNOX IS CONFIRMED.

Motion of Senator Jones, of Arkansas, to Postpone Action Defeated.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The senate, in executive session, without the formality of a roll call, confirmed the nomination of Attorney General Knox.

The discussion of it turned upon a motion made by Senator Jones, of Arkansas, to recommit the nomination to the committee on judiciary, in the meantime publishing the testimony bearing upon the case. Speeches in favor of this proposition were made by Senators Jones and Turner and in opposition by Senators Hoar and Pettus.

It was contended by the two senators last named that the only evidence presented against confirmation had been filed by members of the Anti-Trust league and was very vague and indefinite. The senators favoring the motion said that if this were true there could be no objection on the part of the friends of the attorney general to placing all the facts within reach of the public, and the more time the committee should give to the subject the more thoroughly the public would be convinced of the fairness of its position when ultimately taken.

They dwelt at some length upon the charge that the attorney general, previous to entering upon the duties of that office, had been attorney for the United States Steel corporation and the armor plate manufacturers. In reply to these accusations it was said that it was legitimate for an attorney in private life to represent any interest in his official capacity, and it was argued that his position as counsel for those interests could not be used legitimately against him in connection with his nomination to a position under the present administration. So long as he had conducted himself with propriety his relationship as an attorney should not be used to his injury as an official. The vote on the motion to recommit was lost. The ballot stood 43 to 7. There was no roll call on the motion to confirm, which immediately followed.

AGAINST THE ANARCHISTS

House Committee to Draft a Bill. Vest Resolution Adopted in Senate.

Washington, Dec. 17.—Chairman Ray, of the house committee on judiciary, appointed the special committee to draft an anti-anarchy measure as follows:

Ray, New York; Jenkins, Wisconsin; Overstreet, Indiana; Littlefield, Maine, Republicans, and Fleming, Democrat.

The special committee will meet after the recess, and meantime the chairman will introduce a measure which will be the basis of committee action.

A resolution heretofore offered by Mr. Vest, of Missouri, instructing the committee on judiciary to inquire into the subject of anarchy and to report to the senate by bill or otherwise a constitutional method by which congress may legislate for the suppression of anarchy and for the control of anarchists, was adopted.

CATHOLIC CHURCH PROPERTY.

Archbishop Chappelle Conferred With President, Regarding That in Philippines.

Washington, Dec. 17.—Archbishop Chappelle, of New Orleans, had a long talk with President Roosevelt about conditions in the Philippines, relative to Catholic church property. The archbishop recently went to the Philippines and made a full investigation of the subject. Accompanying him to the White House was Tomaso Lorente, a Filipino friar, who is acting as his secretary.

The archbishop went over the situation at some length with the president, but declined to say anything for publication regarding his interview. He will see Secretary Root today and then will go to New Orleans. He will return to Washington early in January, when it is expected that some definite conclusion as to the church property will be reached.

SECTY. HAY HAS ACCEPTED.

Will Deliver Address to Congress, in Memory of the Late President.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The committee designated by the representatives of the two houses of congress appointed to invite Secretary Hay to deliver an address in honor of the memory of the late President McKinley called upon the secretary and secured his consent to perform this distinguished service. Mr. Hay said that while he would have preferred the invitation should be extended to someone else, he would accept because of a sense of duty and also because of the high honor the selection implies. No time for the ceremony was fixed.

TO ADMIT CHINESE MERCHANTS.

Asiatic Association Will Urge Such Concession.

Washington, Dec. 17.—John Ford,

PROLONGED BY YEARS.

Short Lives Lengthened By Removing Cause of Disease.

Many Glowing Tributes Paid to Blood Wine. The Great French Discovery, Which Cures Colds, Consumption, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, etc.

That "Blood Wine" fully comes up to the expectations of our people is evidenced by the expression of satisfaction from the many who have already given it a test. "If I had to go without some of the necessities of life, I would have 'Blood Wine' in the house," said a certain gentleman living in the northern part of the city. "It wards off coughs, colds, indigestion, bowel troubles and a dozen and one other diseases that are apt to attack any one. 'A bottle of good medicine always handy is the 'stitch in time' that saves suffering and misery; and this is just the kind of medicine that will do it." To begin away down the roots of any sickness, what is the first step to be taken? "Purify the blood," is the answer from every physician. "Regulate the bowels and purify the blood," Microbes, bacteria, bacilli and all kinds of germs float through the system in the blood.

Just stop and reason it out; think of your blood, teeming with these myriads of little demons, floating hither and thither like wreckage on a great ocean, to be cast up against the delicate organs of the system where they find lodging places, stay, thrive and breed, perhaps in the lungs, perhaps in the throat, kidneys, heart or tender tissues of the body anywhere. This is the beginning of trouble. Cleanse your blood and you purify the whole system.

With pure blood and a good circulation no one ever contracted consumption or other fatal disease. "Blood Wine" gives new life because it makes new blood. It brings rest and quiet because it soothes the nerves; it creates a good appetite by toning up the digestive organs; it regulates the system by producing healthy, regular operations of the bowels. It kills that tired feeling and makes one feel like running, jumping and exercising; it gives elasticity to the body by acting directly on the muscles and causing them to respond to the mind's dictates. One teaspoonful of "Blood Wine" makes the blood tingle; it is instantaneous in its action and leaves no room for doubt. It contains no wine or opiates.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle but you can sample it at Will Reed and Hodson's drug stores, free of charge. It stands on its own merits; it is the only medicine that has ever been placed or sale with the local dealer authorized to keep a bottle of it always open to be administered to anyone free of cost.

secretary of the Asiatic association, which is composed of about 250 firms doing business in the far east, arranged with the president to receive a memorial from the association next Wednesday. The association is especially desirous that the door of Manchuria be kept open to our textile fabrics, and to that end wishes the government to obtain written pledges from Russia in case China relinquishes that province. It also desires the repeal of the war tax on tea, the establishment of an international bank in China and private ownership of the proposed Pacific cable.

The delegation which will call on the president Wednesday also will appear before the congressional committees on immigration to argue in favor of a modification of the Chinese exclusion act, which will permit Chinese merchants to come into this country with more freedom.

TO RETIRE OLD OFFICERS.

Root and President Favor Promoting Them First.

Washington, Dec. 17.—As indicated in his annual report, Secretary Root has renewed his efforts to secure the retirement, with an added grade, of the army officers who have participated in the three wars, the rebellion, the Indian wars and the Spanish-American war. He has in this the active support of the president. Inquiries have been directed to the senate to ascertain whether the body would ratify the nominations of a number of the old war colonels who might be advanced to brigadierships through appointment to the two existing vacancies and immediately retired. If this line of action is approved one of the brigadierships would be kept permanently vacant to serve as an outlet for deserving colonels anxious to retire with an advanced grade.

MRS. BONINE RESTORED TO CIVIL SERVICE LIST.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The civil service commission has decided to restore the name of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine, who recently was acquitted of the murder of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., to the roll of eligibles for appointment to the civil service. Just prior to the death of Ayres, Mrs. Bonine had successfully passed an examination for skilled laborer in the government printing office, but pending the result of her trial her name was held up.

TWO RAILROADERS KILLED.

Rear-End Collision Occurred at Keyser, W. Va.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 17.—A passenger train on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad crashed into the rear end of a freight train at Keyser, killing both the conductor and brakeman, who were asleep in the caboose. Their names were J. P. Maxwell and Charles Sharpe, both of Grafton, W. Va.

The wreck took fire from the passenger engine and the bodies of both men were consumed. The passenger train was running on wrong time, as a result of the storm.

STORIES OF SINGERS

TIMES WHEN THEIR VOICES WERE OF MORE WORTH THAN MONEY.

Santley's Adventure With a Band of Mexican Bandits—Some Experiences of the Tenor Mario—How Lablache Put a Bear to Flight.

Many years since, when traveling with some friends in Mexico, Charles Santley was captured by half-breed bandits and, being unable to pay the large ransom demanded, carried off to the mountains. Over supper the singer, by no means weighed down by his mishap, chanced to break into song, which so delighted the brigand chief that he demanded an encore.

Santley saw his chance and expressed his willingness to comply on condition that he and his companions were granted their release. The suggestion was accepted, and for over two hours was the singer's voice raised in such exquisite melody that the bandits, true to their word, allowed him and those with him to depart.

The late Joseph Maas had a somewhat similar experience. Years back, when with a companion buffalo hunting on the American prairies, he was captured by Indians and carried to their camp. When at his wits' end how to extricate himself from the dilemma, his friend suggested the power of song. Forthwith he commenced an operatic selection that so delighted his captors that they loosened his bonds and urged him, at the point of their spears, to continue.

Luckily his voice had a soporific effect upon the Indians, who one by one dropped asleep until, just as he was on the point of stepping from exhaustion, the last passed into the realms of dreams. Then he and his companion quietly stole away.

His wonderful voice on one occasion placed the great tenor Mario in a somewhat invidious position. When traveling with some companions in Spain, he fell into the hands of a party of marauding gypsies, who demanded the customary ransom. Mario, tickled at the situation, answered their request in impromptu song, which he delivered with such exquisite mock dignity that his captors with unanimous acclamation elected him captain of their band. The singer diplomatically acquiesced in their decision, but in the course of the following day contrived to make his escape with his friends.

On another occasion in Madrid the same singer, as he was returning late one night from the theater where he was engaged, was arrested by the police in mistake for a political discontent. In vain he asserted his identity. He was carried before their chief, who likewise smiled incredulously at the captive's asseverations.

Greatly angered, Mario vehemently demanded that his friends should be forthwith communicated with, but the official shook his head and remarked that if indeed he were the great tenor he possessed in his voice a sure means of proving the truth of his words. Ten minutes later Mario was bowed out with many regrets and profuse apologies.

When traveling to Paris with some other ladies, Mme. Grisi had a thrilling adventure. At a small wayside station a man entered the carriage, and it soon became evident from his threatening gestures and eccentric behavior that he was a dangerous lunatic.

Though her companions were panic stricken, Mme. Grisi retained complete presence of mind and with the utmost composure began to sing. At once the man was quiet; his whole attention was riveted on that magnificent voice, and he remained the most appreciative of listeners until the train reached the next station, where he was secured. It transpired subsequently that he was a maniac with homicidal tendencies who had escaped from an asylum.

An amusing story is told of Lablache, the celebrated bass singer. One day as he was strolling leisurely through a French fair a cry was suddenly raised that a bear had escaped from the menagerie. The crowd fled in every direction—all save the singer, whose massive proportions precluded the idea of rapid motion. Amid the general commotion he among them all stood unmoved, calmly awaiting the advent of the ferocious beast, which sure enough came slouching rapidly toward him. When within a few feet, it halted as though to gather itself together for a final rush, when Lablache stepped forward and from the lowest depths of his immense chest sent forth such a thunderous roar that the terrified animal turned and fled.

THREE PLUMP BABIES.

An Exhibition Which the Crusty Old Bachelors Thought Disgusting.

"Disgusting," said one old bachelor to the other.

"Isn't it?" said the other old bachelor to the one.

Three women had come into the street car at different intervals with babies of different intervals. The first baby was a lusty child with nerve testing lungs. The second was about a year old, and the mother, just a little bit embarrassed at the bachelors' glances, finally gained courage to take a bottle from a grip and plug up baby's mouth with a rubber neck. The third baby was the newest of them all and entered the car a mere white bundle in the arms of a dignified matron hardly out of short skirts.

Beginning to unwrap the bundle, which had been somewhat disarranged in the haste to embark, the proud mother first unfolded a cunning pair of blue worsted booties that might fit a grumpy old bachelor's thumb. Then, feeling the eyes of the world upon her, she showed baby's two fat legs, which were as pink as her own ears. Then the cunning sight was solemnly shut from all eyes by a procession of gowns all of white, laced, tucked, embroidered and plain, the fat legs kicking vigorously, and baby's laces hid them from sight.

Then the little mother sat the bundle upright and threw a soft cloak from the other end, disclosing a round face, a pair of blue eyes wide open in amazement and as pretty and baldheaded a baby from end to end as ever made a bachelor angry at his own lost opportunities. Then the three mothers smiled at each other's baby.

"Disgusting," said the bachelors. Then they went out on the platform, and one took a chew of tobacco and the other lighted the butt of a malodorous dead cigar he had been carrying. —New York Press.

Hunter Caught In a Bear Trap

While hunting bears in the wilds of Idaho a short time ago Mr. B. Frank Mohr of Chicago was caught in a bear trap, and for a time matters looked pretty serious for him. It was the Chicagoan's first hunt for big game, and his experience was not so pleasant as he anticipated.

Mr. Mohr's sister, Mrs. McBroon, lives in the bear regions of Idaho, and she helped arrange the expedition for her brother's entertainment. There were two other women in the party—Mrs. S. M. Wharton of Spirit Lake, Ida., and her daughter Elsie. Other members were old frequenters of the forests. Mr. Mohr being the only "tenderfoot."

Three bears were caught in traps that had been set the night before, and Mr. Mohr and his party hurried to the place, which was near a trail about a mile from Cougar point. The animals were killed one at a time for the edification of the Chicago man. While backing away a convenient distance from the scene of the killing Mr. Mohr stepped into one of the traps. These are so arranged they cannot be opened without a clamp, and so happened the clamp had been left on the trail about half a mile away.

Aside from a severe bruise Mr. Mohr escaped uninjured, which all the old time hunters consider little short of a miracle. The traps close with sufficient force to crush a man to death. That he escaped less serious injuries than a broken leg is looked upon as remarkable. The tooth of the trap had caught the man's leg just back of the ankle in such a manner as to protect the limb.

A Ton of Oysters.
There are 14,000 oysters in a ton of the bivalves, but in a good season when banquets are in order it does not take much time to get away with that measure of the prince of marine food, as some are disposed to regard oysters.

Italy's Prizes.
A Roman journal values the libraries in Italy at $12,000,000 and the paintings, statues and vases at $30,000,000.

The Most Costly War.
The most costly war of all time was the civil war of 1861-65 in the United States. That war cost the northern states a total of $6,200,000,000, while the south spent more than $2,000,000,000 in addition. And this does not consider the enormous expense of the pensions which have been paid.

HE SAVED THE SCOW

A CLEVER BIT OF STRATEGY IN AN ENGINEERING JOB.

How a Young American Engineer Brought His Spirit of Invention to Aid in Solving a Wreck Problem in South America.

"It is easy enough for an engineer to show ability in New York or in other big towns where he can get about all the tools and conveniences ever devised. It is when an engineer finds himself in the wilds of a jungle or up in the mountains, hundreds of miles from civilization, that his own natural ingenuity and invention count," said a veteran engineer to a youngster who had been admitted to the ranks of the Engineers' club.

"Down in Surinam, Dutch Guiana, where the arrival of a sailing schooner causes a sensation, where a mail steamer enters the muddy harbor once in two weeks to tarry two hours to get rid of its mail and to take on a few passengers, there was once a young American engineer who showed that he had the proper spirit of invention to advance him to the front ranks of the profession. Like all the best inventors, his was the simplest one, and it was one that was widely talked about among the profession to the credit of the inventor.

"To understand the story properly you need a trifling insight into Surinam and its habits. Here Indians may be seen on the streets wearing only a breechcloth. The white population is so scarce that all are thrown together as if in one large family. Englishmen, Americans, Germans, Dutchmen and Frenchmen all combining together and forming clubs and society to keep themselves from dying of sheer loneliness.

"In this primitive town there was a man who held the splendid monopoly of owning a large scow. That, up there, seems a remarkably small thing to be proud of, but the value of even a scow depends entirely upon where the scow is and what it will cost to replace it. This particular scow had been built by American ship carpenters sent especially from the United States at great expense. There was not another scow in the entire harbor, and about all of the heavy river work to be done for the city and plantations and mining companies was done by this one vessel. Its loss, therefore, would have been not only a severe one for the owner, who had a monopoly of the business in those days, but it would have been little short of a national calamity.

"One day, while the scow was anchored in midstream, one of those smashing black squalls for which the tropics are famous broke over the river, and for twenty minutes you could not see ten feet away or hear a man shouting at your elbow. When the storm finally abated, the scow was not to be seen, and it was found she had gone down, deck load and all. To most of us there seemed about as much chance of raising the vessel as there would be to raise an ocean steamer sunk in the middle of the Atlantic.

"It was about this time that the young engineer took a hand in the problem. He asked the dimensions of the scow and was told that it was 12 by 60 feet, and then he announced that if the owner would provide him with four men he would raise the scow for a certain sum of money. The bargain was made, though the contractor refused to say how he would go about the job.

"Now, you must know that aside from the ebb and flood tide, which alternate every six hours, there is also what is known as a spring tide. This comes with the full of the moon, and it has the effect of making a higher flood tide than any during the month. The opposite to the spring tide is the neap tide, and that happens at the dark of the moon, with the effect that at no other tide during the month is the ebb tide so low as it is at that time. The difference in the height of water between the ebb at neap tide and the flood at spring tide is considerable. "The engineer waited until neap tide. On that day he towed a number of logs down the river. These he anchored over the scow and sent men below to fasten chains to one side of the scow, and these he fastened to the logs on the surface. Then he waited patiently. As the spring tide approached he towed other logs down the river until he had enough to make quite a raft, and on the day of the highest tide all the logs were tied together and fastened. The tide rose steadily, and the more it rose the more the raft went down under the strain of the pull on the chains. At last, just as it seemed that the raft was unequal to the occasion, it was seen to bob up violently, and a moment later there was a commotion in the water, and the scow appeared. What had happened, of course, was this: The chains pulling upward on one side of the scow tilted it more and more until the deck load began to slide off, and finally, when all the stones had slid into the river, the scow came up under its own buoyancy. The remainder was simple. The vessel was towed to the shore, where it was hauled up on the sand, and when the water receded holes bored into the hull caused the scow to empty. Later the holes were plugged up again, and the old ship was as fine as silk."—New York Times.

POULTRY POINTERS.

A safe rule in feeding is to give enough to satisfy and no more.

Droppings should not be allowed to accumulate in the poultry house longer than a week.

Bone dust supplies an abundance of bonemaking material and counteracts any tendency to diarrhea.

When possible, give the poultry house a southern exposure and furnish that side with an abundance of light.

While wheat is one of the best grains to feed to fowls, it should not be fed to excess or it may cause diarrhea. Feed it with other grains.

Loss of feathers is generally caused by want of green food or want of a dust bath. Supply both, and, as a local application, use mercurial ointment.

Breed the best flesh formers for market; then feed them up to as great a weight as possible. Well fattened, well dressed poultry bring the best prices.
